Occasion: Good Deeds Day

Venue: Clapai Orphanage home and Jos University Teaching Hospital

Details: To commemorate Good Deeds Day, The foundation split its volunteers into two groups and visited the Clapai orphanage home, and the Jos University Teaching Hospital(JUTH) simultaneously.

- a. The first group of volunteers who visited the Clapai orphanage home were involved in the general environmental clean-up, i.e. they swept in and outside the house, washed the restrooms, did the dishes, etc. The volunteers also groomed the children, plaiting and barbing their hair.

During the visit, the volunteers observed that the orphanage home had some challenges that could be harmful to everyone in the home. They include

1. Faulty drainage in the restrooms.
 2. The restrooms had no doors.
 3. Use of laundry soap for bathing.
 4. Some of the children did not have shoes.
 5. Insufficient amount of cutlery.
 6. The drinking water needed to be cleaner, healthier, and treated. It should not be consumed.
- b. The second set of volunteers visited three wards in the pediatric department at the Jos University Teaching Hospital (JUTH), Jos, Plateau State. The volunteers engaged the kids in some playful activities and then shared gifts with them. They also prayed for the children and shared words of affirmation stickers, and toiletries. All 78 children were happy at the end of the visit.
